RECEPTION - AUTUMN 2

MEET THE TEAM

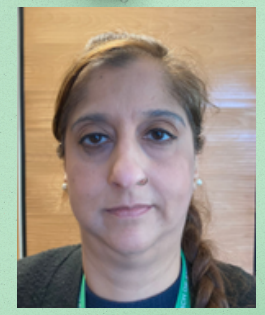

Mrs Garside

Mrs Keegan

Mrs Hussain

Mrs Siddique

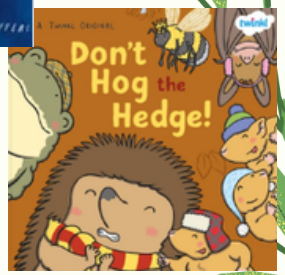

Mrs Riley

This half term in Reception, we will continue exploring the season of Autumn with a special focus on night and day. The children will journey into the night sky as they learn about stars, planets and the moon, as well as discovering fascinating nocturnal animals and animals that hibernate during the colder months. We will also learn about and celebrate important events and festivals, including Bonfire Night, Diwali and Christmas, helping children to develop an understanding of different traditions and cultures. Through stories, creative activities, investigations and play, we will encourage curiosity and excitement as we explore the wonders of the world around us

Home Learning

We would greatly appreciate your support with any home learning activities that are sent home, as these help to reinforce and extend your child's learning in school. Please also spend time sharing and enjoying the reading books sent home, as regular reading together helps to build confidence, develop language skills and foster a lifelong love of books.

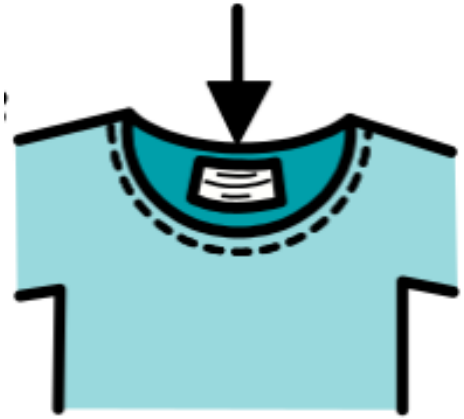

LABELLING

Please could we ask you to ensure that all items of uniform including shoes, coats, lunch boxes and spare clothes bags are clearly labelled with your child's name. Inevitably, items are put on the wrong peg, left in the classroom or accidently go home with the wrong child. Clear labelling allows the children to become independent and enables us to find items quickly and return them to their owner.

OUTDOOR CLOTHING

Please ensure your child comes to school each day with appropriate outdoor clothing, including a waterproof coat and wellies, as we enjoy learning outdoors in all weather conditions. We access our outdoor provision and Forest School activities throughout the year, so suitable clothing will help children stay comfortable, dry and able to fully enjoy these valuable learning experiences.

Benefits of Reading

Books

1. Language Development

· Regular reading exposes children to new vocabulary, sentence structures, and sounds, which strengthens their language skills.

· It helps them understand how words connect to meaning, improving comprehension and communication.

2. Cognitive Growth

· Listening to stories stimulates imagination and creativity.

· It builds memory, attention span, and problem-solving skills as children follow plots and anticipate outcomes.

3. Emotional Bonding

· Shared reading time creates a sense of security and strengthens the parent-child relationship.

· It provides opportunities for comfort and positive interaction, which is essential for emotional well-being.

4. Early Literacy Skills

· These foundational skills make the transition to independent reading smoother.

5. Academic Success

· Studies show that children who are read to regularly perform better in school, especially in reading and writing.

· It fosters curiosity and a love for learning, which benefits all subjects.

6. Social and Emotional Understanding

· Stories introduce children to different characters, cultures, and situations, helping them develop empathy and social awareness.

Thank you in anticipation for your support and help
